

HOW TO APPLY

Please read the following directions carefully.

Below is the list of the documents you need to prepare or arrange for submission:

1. Completed online SUN Application Form (see notes below)

2. Full curriculum vitae or resume, including a list of publications, if any

Please upload your Curriculum Vitae or resume, including a list of publications, if any.

3. Statement of Research interest

(max. 1 page)

To be eligible for this course, participants will be expected to have either

- a) carried out a medium- to large-scale research project on a related topic;
- b) have a clearly articulated interest in adding a digital component to their research design; or
- c) worked extensively as an archivist or curator with materials related to this topic.

In the Statement of Research interest please describe your disciplinary background, academic or research expertise, and interest in the course. Include references to any large-scale digitization or digital humanities projects you have been involved in, and what your role was in those projects. After looking at the website of the NEP4DISSENT COST Action (nep4dissent.eu), describe how your research would intersect with the topics of the Working Groups listed there. Optional: please specify if you have had any experience working with relevant programming languages or softwares.

4. Outline of a research paper/work-in-progress

(500-700 words)

Please use this space to describe in more details the historical materials you are working with, where they are located, and what their relevance is to the cultures of dissent in Eastern Europe 1945-1989. In particular, please specify whether your project already has a digital component, and/or if you would like to implement one as a part of your project design. Are your sources in analog or digital format? Are there issues of data protection or privacy associated with these materials? Please include a basic timeline illustrating where you are in the design of the project, and where you expect you will be by July 2021. Finally, what are the biggest research questions you are trying to address? What do you expect the impact of your project will be on your field or subfield?
