

CEU Summer course on LEARN AND MAKE FRIENDS AT CEU — A HANDS-ON APPROACH TO HIGHER EDUCATION

6 July - 17 July 2020 – Budapest, Hungary
with three weekend sessions between April 3 and June 27

Application deadline
14 February 2020

Course Instructors

This course has been developed by CEU researchers and trainers and piloted together with a great group of high schoolers from Hungary, Romania, Columbia and Norway in the summer of 2019. With this course we invite a new cohort of high school students of minimum 16 years of age to come to the great campus of Central European University in downtown Budapest and:

- Learn how universities work and how students interact in the higher education puzzle (if you think you already know, you could still be surprised!)
- Learn a solid set of critical learning tools that will be useful in academic and personal life;
- Exercise public speaking in a safe, supportive environment;
- Make friends;
- Have fun through a wide assortment of games and exercises taken from the art of public speaking, improvisation theatre, and debate practice.

Pusa Nastase is a Senior Program Manager at the Yehuda Elkana Center for Higher Education where she conducts research on higher education management and policy and is involved in capacity development projects. She has a Ph.D. in Education from the University of Bristol and an MA in Human Rights from CEU. She has extensive experience with delivering trainings and courses on topics related to higher education.

Monica Jitareanu is Global Partnerships Officer at CEU. She has a Ph.D. in Philosophy from CEU; her research interests cover both analytic philosophy and higher education topics. She has experience engaging with different audiences including undergraduate and postgraduate students.
